

Designed For Life

TREAT YOURSELF Weird and wonderful design goodies you can't bear to live without

Yod

James Jarvis (profiled in issue 131) is the closest thing the Vinyl toy scene has to a celebrity. His latest figure, Yod, was announced at this year's Comic-Con in San Diego and is only now being released into the wild. If you're a fan of all things potato-headed, get in there quick, as they're sure to sell out soon.

Price: £29.95

Contact: www.store.amostoys.com

Shufflesome stickers

Apple's iPods are getting smaller and smaller, and the new Shuffle is little bigger than a button. Still, there's just enough space to add some adornment such as these stickers from Shufflesome, featuring designs from 43 artists. You can even create your own designs.

Price: €5.65

Contact: www.shufflesome.com

Limited edition White Stripes Lomo cameras

Cult Russian camera maker Lomo has released two limited edition White Stripes cameras inspired by the Detroit rock duo. The White Stripes 'Jack' edition Holga camera features a titanium fisheye adaptor lens, while the 'Meg' edition Diana+ camera includes a Lomography Ringflash. Both feature three plastic lens filters and a custom Peppermint mask filter.

Price: €150

Contact: www.lomography.com